Part VII. Project Ideas

1. Describe a pond scene, with its plant and animal life interaction, from a deist's, a pantheist's, and a biblical (God's providential) view.
2. Design a chart which defines and provides examples of how God's preservation, cooperation, and government affect our daily lives.
3. Locate and print on a chart two lists of texts; one that speaks about all natural and spiritual gifts being freely given by god, and the second that commands us to actively use God's means.
4. Reproduce the chart provided that deals with God's decree and providence. Then using the stories of Joseph's brothers' selling him into Egypt, and Judas Iscariot's betrayal of Jesus; illustrate from the chart how these sins were in God's decree, governed by His providence, directed to a good end, and yet, were fully the desires and actions of the persons' own sinful hearts.
